LATE RECOVERY AFTER REACTION

Bank Statement Proved Disappointment and Caused Slump in Prices.

SUPPORT READILY GIVEN

List Pulled Up and Some Stocks Rallied Vigorously to Best of Day.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 28 .- The speculative movement was not very actively purseud during to-day's short session at the Stock Exchange, but protective measures for the market were evidently in force. The the market were evidently in force. The movement was rather singish and irregular, and the price level was held up by the medium of some new advances at points not conspicuous during the week. The stocks selected were mostly in the class of industrials and specialties, and especially among the metal industries and conlers. The stocks of the great trans-continental railroads and the trunk inces were conjuaratively quiescent, but not under active pressure. Deallags continued very large in United States Steel and that stock rose to within a small fraction of 40 which had been promised for it this week by its speculative sponsors.

NEW YORK, July 23.—The dry goods market was quiet to-day, but more confidence we expressed as a consequence of a fair trad during the week. White goods were still verstrong, Linens are higher and buyers ar holding off. Burlaps were easier and quiet as a consequence of large arrivals of supplie during the week. Silk imports for the month show an increase as compared with last year Cotton goods were generally firm.

Upset Bid Put In.

"Walnut Hill." the Todd property, is to go under the hammer again, as an upset bid on the former sale has been put in.

Ten days ago this valuable property, after several interruptions by rains, and consequent postponements, was knocked out to Mr. A. C. Lipscomb, for $10,250, which bid was not satisfactory to the court.

which bid was not satisfactory to the court.

Messrs. J. Thompson Brown and Company then submitted an upset bid of $11,250, through the commissioners, Messrs. Jo Lane Stern and St. John Coalter, to the court. A resale has been ordered under instruction of the court, which will take place on the premises. Thursday, August 2d, at 5:30 P. M., when the property will be started at $11,250, the upset bid, and, unless a larger figure is offered, it will be knocked out to the new bidder. Messrs. Brown and Company declined to name the new bidder, but stated that he was unable to be present at the last sale, and while, as a rule, Brown and Company, like all real estate agants, are opposed, in a general way, to upset bide, in this instance there were extenualing circumstances, which justified their encouragement of such, and the facts being laid before the court by the commissioners, a resale was ordered. If the new bidder scoures the property, it is his intention to make radical improvements, which will add greatly to the already attractive appearance of the property.

There is continued inquiry for suburban ments, which will add greatly to the already attractive appearance of the property.

There is continued inquiry for suburban property, and while there have been closed fic large sales all the agencies that deal in this class of property report things moving along in a dull season kind of a way.

The managers of the Ginter Park property declare that activity continues right along in spite of this being the so-called "dull season" of the year for high class suburban property. The company reports an increasing number of inquiries and expects to close up many sales within the next few days. The extension of the sewerage and water systems is going forward, and with the opening of the northern and southern extensions of Seminary Avenue some of tha finest property in this vicinity will be made available.

The dealers in farm property also report active business and a splendid outlook for large business the coming fall. Messrs. Casselman & Company, who are doing as much, if not more, than any other one concern to turn the attention of Westerners and Northerners to old Virginia and her splendid farming lands, report increased activity, and they say the outlook is that Virginia farms will sell like the proverbial hot-ackes before the frosts of November kill the blooms on the clover.

sell like the proverbial not-cakes before the frosts of November kill the blooms on the clover.

There is a hope that the long rainy spell, which has knocked out so many announced auction sales of city and suburban reality, has now passed. The agents are at least encouraged to think so, and the advertising columns of this paper centain this morning the announcements of quite a number of interesting sales to take place this week. Some of the property to be offered has already attracted no little attention, and, if the rains will only hold up this week, there will be something doing of a very lively character. The probability is that good sales, that will have quite a bearing on the industrial and building situation, will be made.

Apollinaris Sales and Profits. Apolimatis Sales and Froitts.
The report of the Apolimar's business, issued by the London Company is a very satisfactory one Both the sales and the profits for the year have improved. In addition to paying its dividends, and after writing off all the advertising expenses from the profit and loss account the company will add $100,000 to its reserve fund, which will then amount to $600,000, and an additional $100,800 will be carried forward as undivided profits for the current year.
